WELCOME TO THE CITY OF LAKES: BHOPAL

With all the advantages of a major city Bhopal offers an enviable lifestyle and ideal study environment. Bhopal - The City of Lakes, the capital of Madhya Pradesh, is situated around two unfathomable lakes amidst picturesque settings. Bhopal is an enchanting combination of scenic beauty, old historic city and modern urban planning. The old city with its crowded market places, fine old mosques and palaces intermingles the new city with the broad avenues, high rise offices and exquisitely laid out parks and gardens. The city is famous for silver jewellery, exquisitely fashioned beadwork, embroidered and sequined velvet fashioned purses and cushions. Endowed with numerous educational institutions and installations, Bhopal city is an important educational, industrial, economic and political center of the State as well as Central India and is the cultural and performing arts hub. Bhopal was selected as one of the first twenty Indian cities to be developed as a smart city under flagship Smart Cities Mission.

Bhopal is one of the most liveable, Safe and relaxed affordable cities in India. The cost of living in Bhopal is up to 19% lower than Indore and metro cities in India.

HEART BEHIND JLU

JAGRAN SOCIAL WELFARE SOCIETY

Jagran Social Welfare Society Bhopal is promoted by Shri Hari Mohan Gupta along with other members with the ideology and thoughts for social cause of its inspiration and fatherly figure Late Shri Guru Dev Gupta in the year 1997. It is registered with Registrar of Societies (Madhya Pradesh) as a non-proprietary, not for profit, charitable welfare organisation with the main objective to develop and propagate educational programs, by way of establishing progressive schools, colleges, universities or other educational institutions in India, open to all without any distinction of race, caste or creed and other social welfare objectives of the Society. The Society works with a mission to make world-class quality education more accessible and affordable so that more students can pursue their dreams. We believe our mission will help make the world a better place. At the centre of our vision are values - defined by our students and those who will employ them. We prepare our school students by inculcating knowledge in their minds, ethos in their heart and a sense of commitment towards the country. We believe, development of knowledge with compassion, love and moral character only will lead to the well-being of entire humanity.

DEAN'S MESSAGE

Prof. (Dr.) Shailaja Shastri
Dean - Faculty of Liberal Arts & Humanities
Jagran Lakecity University

Welcome to the Faculty of Liberal Arts and Humanities.

We at the Faculty of Liberal Arts and Humanities focus on enhancing the student learning experiences with the ultimate goal of getting them 'life ready'. We take pride in the fact that we place the learner central in the quest for knowledge. The journey begins with enabling a flexible and imaginative curricular structure, supported by pedagogic practices that provide space for interdisciplinary and cross disciplinary thinking. To align ourselves with the spirit of the National Education Policy 2020, we have incorporated a practicum component in our core courses in every domain. Through the prism of the practicum component, students are able to connect the theory to the events in the society. By instilling the skill to reflect, analyse and evaluate problems and situations arising in the society, we enable the student takes ownership of learning. Learners are trained to connect the global perspective to national vision and a strong understanding of the local.

Our curriculum also accentuates a bouquet of skills that the 21 st century professional needs. The competence to articulate the idea or opinion with poise and confidence is something we strive to instill in our students. In this context, we would like to bring your attention to our faculty. The process of facilitation by the faculty in the classroom is something that plays a positively dominant and an influential role in the life of a learner. Our faculty are trained to be mentors and inspire learners to push boundaries of knowledge and transform to a be a lifelong learner.

We aspire to provide our learners a new roadmap to experience success in the 21st century!

Best Wishes
Prof. (Dr.) Shailaja Shastri

IGNITING MINDS IN THE HEART OF INDIA

Jagran Lakecity University is a world-class teaching and research institution situated in the heart of one of India's most liveable cities, Bhopal, Madhya Pradesh.

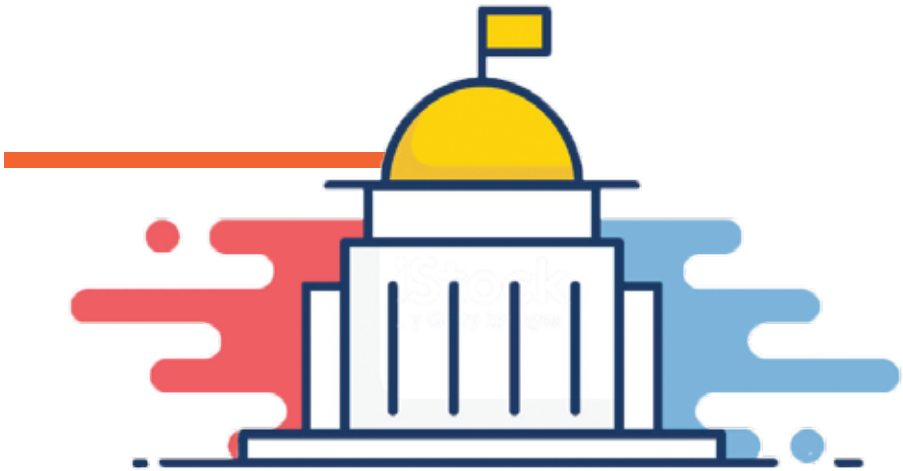

Jagran Lakecity University Bhopal (JLU) is a private university established under Section 2(f) of UGC Act 1956 and is based out of Bhopal, Madhya Pradesh.

JLU is one of the fastest growing and one of the most awarded universities of Central India having practice based pedagogy at its core. Currently the University is offering 56 degree programmes to more than 2500 students from 8 countries and 27 states of India. The University has 27 partnerships with top industries and international universities ensuring the students get great exposure both nationally and internationally. JLU Bhopal is the only university from Central India to be a part of three Erasmus+ projects funded by the European Union Commission and is also currently the Country Chair for Association of Universities of Asia Pacific (AUAP).

The University has been bestowed with several prestigious awards, such as 'University of the Year' by Government of Madhya Pradesh for consecutive four years in 2015, 2016 2017 and 2018 and was recognized as a Global League Institution in 2015 at the House of Commons, London, UK. JAGRAN SCHOOL OF PUBLIC POLICY AND INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS

Efforts to advance common good have never been more important. Jagran School of Public Policy and International Affairs is a leading school in the area of public policy, governance, human development, stakeholder engagement, international affairs and leadership.

We learn, we teach and we serve as well as undertake applied policy frameworks and academic research, policy advisory, professional development training apart from managing graduate, post graduate and doctoral programs in public administration, policy & governance and international affairs.

The members of faculty and students at the School work closely and maintain extensive academic & professional networks within the University and with governments; industry; not-for-profit and community based organizations across India and internationally.

Jagran School of Public Policy & International Affairs's mission is to improve public policy and public leadership across India and around the world, so people can lead safer, freer, and more prosperous lives. By combining cutting-edge research, the outstanding teaching of students, and direct interaction with practitioners, we have an impact on solving public problems that few other institutions can match.

WHAT MAKES US DIFFERENT?

Jagran School of Public Policy & International Affairs is a blend of the best that the University, and governmental leadership, civil society and thinkers have to offer.

The key difference that the School brings is that our work is shaped by the needs of local governance and variety of sectors. We aim to develop high quality, relevant and applicable work that will make a real and tangible impact in the environments in which we work. Much of our work has a sector development focus and is guided by:

- The expressed needs, gaps and areas of interest identified by our stakeholders, clients and more broadly, the government sector
- Our international partners and their research and experience
- The specific objectives of research projects commissioned by governments or industry

As part of a University we have access to the best specialists, academics and their latest thinking, across a range of disciplines. Forming sector partnerships help shape our research agenda, and we often contribute toward sector capacity building based on our research by undertaking specific projects we feel will have broader benefit or application.

Our activities promote scholarly exchange and practitioner dissemination of research findings. These activities include seminars, round-tables, visiting academics, publication of papers, conference papers, presentations to professional and industry groups and information exchanges with international local and government organizations.

Our undergraduate and post graduate programmes encourage students to be reflexive in developing institutional designs that can transform public services and human development.

The School's existing and planned faculty members represent diverse disciplines and research interests. They aim to influence policy dialogue and public opinion through publications, public lectures and writing in the media. They also hold memberships in many influential policy-related committees in India and abroad. The members regularly publish research papers on a variety of issues in peer-reviewed journals.

The School primarily works to develop expertise in the following areas

- Public Administration
- Public Policy – A diverse range of policy topics including social policy, housing policy and local and regional development policy.
- Gender & Public Policy
- International Organizations and UN Studies: Two focus areas—International Organization (IO) and United Nations Studies (UNS)—provide students with a roadmap of the international organizations that inform public policy and global action across borders.

- International Conflict Resolution
- Energy & Environment
- Community Development and Social Impact – Participatory Democracy, Community Mobilization, Grassroots Governance, co-design of policies and co-production of services, Urban Renewal and urban regeneration, Advocacy & communication Development.
- Local Government – Service delivery reviews; strategic planning; community engagement and stakeholder consultation; environmental management; social planning; the nature, role and effectiveness of local government; national and international comparative local government practice; local government in developing countries; and local government and economic development.
- Intergovernmental Relations, Governance and Partnerships – Multi-level governance; metropolitan reforms and metropolitan governance; rescaling the state; public-private partnerships; institutional restructuring; strategic collaboration, cross-border alliances and growth coalitions.
- Urban Studies, Housing Studies and Urban Planning – New urban trends and challenges arising from contemporary patterns of urbanization, including the implications for urban theory, urban policy, urban politics, urban marginality and urban political economy.
- Organizational Ethics and the Public Sector – Governance and oversight; ethical theorizing; and the public sector and codes of conduct.

BA [HONS] PUBLIC POLICY & ADMINISTRATION [3 YEARS]

The programme establishes academic rigour while enabling participants to learn about policy & administration in their practical application. Career pathways include graduates to work in prestigious agencies and firms in the public, private, and nonprofit sectors, as well as their own start-ups and social enterprises. The programme also helps students to aim for other civil and public services.

Through the programme students develop the knowledge and skills needed to be public administration professionals in the public, non-profit or private sectors, understand how governments make decisions, learn how to develop, analyze and manage the policies and programs that shape our lives, gain knowledge and skills required to evaluate public policies, programs and public services to ensure citizens' needs are met, and explore the latest developments, issues and initiatives in the public sector.

The Takeaway

The course will build your critical capabilities and your analytical skills. It will equip you with skills to develop, implement and evaluate policy in practical contexts. Designed to provide a balance between applied and theoretical learning, the course will enable you to examine policy from multiple perspectives. It will also enable you to take your career towards administration, civil service, developmental management and public service.

CENTRES OF EXCELLENCE

CENTRE FOR AGRICULTURAL AND FOOD SECURITY POLICIES AND RESEARCH (CAFSPR)

Rights of agriculturists and food security are two major concerns in the era of rapid industrialization. India has an agriculture based economy and there are many issues in the domain of agriculture and food security that require policy-makers' attention. Today, more than 800 million people across the globe go to bed hungry every night, most of them smallholder farmers who depend on agriculture to make a living and feed their families. Investing in smallholder farmers many of whom are women and in the markets around them is more important than ever. In case of India, research on agrarian distress has proliferated and most studies agree that a combination of policy-induced, technological and ecological factors is responsible for India's agrarian crisis. Public investment in agriculture has declined steadily and policy approach towards the sector has been piecemeal. India's long-term food security concerns must feature more prominently in the policy discourse. This focus of CAFSPR is to initiate extensive deliberations and systematic research in order to shape policy decisions and come up with pragmatic solutions to the problems of agriculture and food security with due consultation with stakeholders.

CENTRE FOR CLIMATE CHANGE AND SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT (CCCSD)

Climate change is the most significant challenge to achieving sustainable development, and it threatens to drag millions of people into grinding poverty. It is severely affecting every country on every continent. It is disrupting national economies and affecting lives, costing people, communities and countries dearly today and even more tomorrow. Weather patterns are changing, sea levels are rising, weather events are becoming more extreme and greenhouse gas emissions are now at their highest levels in history. Without immediate action, the world's average surface temperature is likely to surpass 3 degrees centigrade this century. The poorest and most vulnerable people are being affected the most. The global agenda of Sustainable Development requires a consorted effort of the world community. CCCSD focuses its attention on the extensive study and research on the issue of climate change and environmental challenges. The aim is to bring about policy formulations that help in building an efficacious framework to combat climate change and ensure sustainable growth at a global level.

CENTRE FOR GOOD GOVERNANCE AND POLICY REFORMS (CGGPR)

CREDITORS

Good governance emerged as a powerful idea in the today's progressive global community. Prominent international agencies like World Bank, UNDP, OECD, ADB, etc. have realized that it is a citizen-friendly, citizen-caring, accountable and responsive administration. A transparent administration following the practices and principles of Rule of Law is an epitome of Good Governance. In absence of good governance, no development schemes can bring any improvement in the quality life of the citizens. If the power is concentrated or if it is exercised in improper or arbitrary ways then the poor will suffer the most, as poor governance generates corruption, poverty and other socio-economic evils. The concept of good governance plays a vital role in assessing the modern governance mechanism. Many countries including India have devised a Good Governance Index for the same purpose. CGGPR aims to conduct intensive deliberations and research to promote and diffuse the idea of good governance across various levels of governance. The Centre also aims to work closely with policy-makers like Ministers, senior officials, institutions and other stakeholders, with the purpose of building and nurturing citizen-centric governance practices.

CENTRE FOR ORGANIZED AND UNORGANIZED SECTORS, POLICY AND RESEARCH

The sector which is registered and follows government rules and regulations, having employees and employee unions is called as an organised sector. The sector that comprises of small-scale enterprises (such as weaver, carpenters, blacksmiths, etc.) or units and is not registered with the government is called an unorganized sector. Unorganized sector has largely remained outside the control of government. Over 94% of India's working population belongs to unorganized sector which requires policy-makers' attention. Unorganized sector's contribution to the economy is quite considerable and policy framework to safeguard their interests and rights is necessary. This Centre focuses on conducting intensive research in the field of organized and unorganized labour. Through various instruments such as seminars, workshops and conferences, this Centre aims to bring groundbreaking policy changes in the said field.

CENTRE FOR STRATEGIC STUDIES AND GLOBAL DEVELOPMENT (CSSGD)

Conflict and peace strategies and related studies has been an important domain for some decades. Study of the role of intelligence, diplomacy, and international cooperation for security and defence is equally important in the field of public policy and international relations. The shifts in foreign policy with an emphasis on hard and soft power linkages are the basic areas of study. Probing the implications of increasing global inter-dependence and foreign relations on India is extremely important. CSSGD is focused on coming up with effective suggestions to ignite a discourse on strategic issues so as to enhance India's global presence. This will be done with a qualitative analysis of past, present and potential strategies for developing relevant policy documents.

Ph.D. PROGRAMMES

Along with a range of graduate & post graduate studies, the School also proposes to offer researchers and practitioners, the PhD programme in the areas of public administration and policy, social research, international affairs, stakeholder engagement and leadership and various other concentration tracks.

The key research areas and work straddle across:

- The Policy Area Concentration on Regulation and Institutions works against the backdrop of a multi- dimensional shift in policy making.
- The Policy Area Concentration on Urbanization engages with what is marked as development goal for countries expanding the urban process. It looks at the spatial dynamics of urbanization, the influence of global or indigenous capital, the nature of jobs and the standard of living it creates, as well as the inequality within it. Public policies play a central role in determining the shape and nature of urbanization
- The Policy Area Concentration on International Security
- The Policy Area Concentration on International Finance & Economics
- The Policy Area Concentration on Education
- The Policy Area Concentration on Health
- The Policy Area Concentration on Agriculture
- The Policy Area Concentration on Gender and Diversity

Research activities are guided by the overall strategic research objectives of the University along with the expressed needs of the sector and the specific objectives of research projects commissioned by state, federal or industry bodies.

An important aspect of the School's research program is the range of activities that will be undertaken to promote scholarly exchange and practitioner dissemination of research findings. These will include activities like seminar series, round-tables, visiting academics, publication of papers, conference papers, presentations to professional and industry groups and information exchanges with international and local government organisations.

STUDENT TESTIMONIAL

Ms. Tuhina Tiwari
Illrd Year
BA (Hons) Public
Administration &
Policy

I remember having knowledge about things happening in the nation and around the world, but it was only after I started studying Public Administration as my undergraduate course that I realized there's a lot more that goes on in the systems of government. There have been various guest lectures and field trips that have further added to my knowledge. Today I realize the potential I carry within me and am set to build my career in public policy & International affairs. Talking about the college, Jagran Lakecity University has the best environment for students. The campus, in itself, is a stress buster. "You need to be here to see it" is all I would say.

Devashish Saxena
IInd Year
BA (Hons) Public
Administration &
Policy

I am pursuing BA(Hons.)Public Administration & Policy from Jagran Lake City University. I would describe JLU as exciting and dynamic. The best thing about being a student here is the number of additional opportunities that are available. The best thing about the degree in Public Policy and international affairs is having the freedom to think of an idea and test its practical application. I feel extremely lucky to be in an environment that allows me to conduct research on what interests me the most. Its amazing how I am evolving as a public policy student. The University has various facilities to help you evolve as a student, from a well-stocked library, to gymnasium, management club activities and co-curricular activities.

JLU SCHOOL OF HUMANITIES & SOCIAL SCIENCE

The Jagran School of Humanities and Social Sciences at Jagran Lakecity University delivers a range of undergraduate and postgraduate taught program in the discipline areas of English Literature and Psychology. The objective of the discipline is to ensure holistic development of every student towards academic and co-curricular excellence. This is made possible by providing a value enabled professional teaching system for an overall development. Moreover, the School has a history of producing outstanding results since its inception. The School is oriented towards promoting quality education and research. The School has been successful in organizing guest lectures, training workshops, literary fests, community outreach programs on various themes of social thought, global literature, culture, polity, personality and societal development. The School through its programs and activities aims to inculcate the quality of innovation and creativity through experiential learning and becoming a lifelong learner by investing in personal growth.

■ HUMAN FACTOR ASSESSMENT LAB:

Jagran Lakecity University is proud to partner with Dalham Foundation to establish the first Human Factor Assessment (HFA) Lab in the state of Madhya Pradesh. HFA is a multi-layered series of clinical psychological assessments specifically designed to probe the deepest reaches of a student's psyche (classes 8 and above). It helps parents and teachers interpret and evaluate students' perspective of the world around them; identify red-flags in their personality traits and analyse their overall emotional and mental well-being.

■ SOCIAL INNOVATION LAB:

Jagran Lakecity University established the Social Innovations Lab which aims to bring community, university, corporate and government on a single platform to brainstorm and experiment solutions for long pending social problems. This lab creates a platform for Industry to share its social and environmental problems, and University to find and implement solutions for them. It gives the students an opportunity to use their knowledge and skills practically on ground, gives the faculty Live Case studies to teach, helps the University groom students better for the Industry and thus command better packages, and promotes Social Entrepreneurship.

BA (HONS) ENGLISH LITERATURE [3 YEARS]

STUDENT TESTIMONIAL

“ Looking back to my college days in Jagran Lakecity University doesn't feel long it's like yesterday when it was first day my campus which beyond words stood out, surprisingly gave me this comfort for a new place. Reflecting on those three years I've learned so much academically and improving myself in the process, all those opportunities from seminars, competitions and college activities gave so many life lessons.

Madiha Rizwan
BA (Hons) English
Literature (2018-2021)

This journey with incredibly supportive classmates, and professors who were nothing short of champions, I was challenged to discover a voice I didn't know I had. That voice has played a central role in my work, and improved it plenty. I found myself able to communicate, innovate, and collaborate in ways that transformed me into a new self. All the achievements from being a leader to scholar, being acknowledged and awarded for, motivated me throughout the course of time. Especially faculty of English Literature have special eye for the ones with talent as they know the area of expertise of individual and help them thrive their paths. Being in the presence of such intellectuals makes me feel accomplished.

Thankful for all the time spent in there getting ready to face the world being the new representatives and making memories as well.

So unlike Dickens, It was the best of the times, and it was the best of the times. ”

“ For me, there could have been no better place than JLU to pursue English Literature. The curriculum spans literature from various eras and cultures which enabled me to explore, enhance and express my creative as well as intellectual self. The program comes along with subjects like psychology and sociology which aid in sagacious analysis of literary works and also individual growth. Most importantly the program focuses on the comprehensive development of the students.

Mishika Baretha
BA (Hons) English
Literature (2018-2021)

I'm glad that I chose JLU because it provided me the perfect college experience. SOHA became like a family to me. The faculties are the best part, always there to guide and support us through everything. Even when the world was falling apart during the pandemic, they didn't let any challenges come in our way of learning. They helped us academically and mentally all along. Besides an exceptional education, I got some very special friends and memories too for which I'll be grateful forever. These are few of the many reasons that make JLU SOHA a significant part of my life. ”

I entered my bachelor's with absolutely no knowledge about my course other than the fact that I would get to study literature but from the moment that I stepped into my first lecture, I have never felt more at home at any other place; the faculty and the department helped me to cultivate my interest in literature, the college experience with my batchmates helped me overcome my shortcomings and made a big impact on my personality.

The English Literature course has a lot to offer in itself and combined with psychology and sociology, I learned a lot. The three years that I studied at Jagran Lakecity University have played a very important role in my life and to say that this experience has brought about changes in me for the better would be an understatement. ”

Anisha Goswami
BA (Hons) Psychology
(2018-2021)

Being a part of JLU SoHSS has been a great experience for me. The diverse and aptly-curated syllabus with well-thought pedagogy really helped us to gain knowledge through multiple approaches.

The department and our faculties effectively managed to conduct various events and webinars even in the pandemic, which helped us to learn and get acquainted with experienced professionals from around the world. The constant support and motivation provided by each faculty is really admirable and to be thankful of. Along with being consistent in providing quality education, their kindness and compassion has really helped us in many ways while coping with the pandemic.”

Apeksha Jain
MA Psychology
(2019-2021)

“The Masters in Psychology Programme at JLU Bhopal has been a wonderful learning and life-carving experience for me. I’m humbly grateful to not just the awesome faculty and beautifully crafted enriching curriculum, but also to the real-life problems given to me that made me explore the unending depth of human psyche and emotions. I will forever remain indebted to the love and wisdom received from the amazing faculty of the Jagran School of Humanities and Social Sciences for their immense devotion and providing me with necessary practical experience and skills.”

Zubeen Khan
MA Psychology
Batch 2021

It gives me immense pride to say that I've completed my post graduation degree of Masters in Psychology from Jagran Lakecity University. Being an alumni, it always felt like coming back home. The cordial relationship between faculties and students, the robust curriculum and the exposure to new opportunities that shape you personally and professionally is something that is a JLU personification.

I convey my sincere gratitude to all the faculties and friends who have been a part of my journey, and best wishes to the ongoing batches!”

Mihir Rathore
BA (Hons) Psychology

The JLU days of my life have been splendid, specially my experience in School of Humanities and Social Sciences. From the Director to Program Leader of my main subject Psychology to all the faculty teachers, everyone have been very supportive, encouraging. I can not imagine a better institute for Graduation in Psychology then JLU in Bhopal. They have organised regular interactive seminars including sessions with some of the very successful people in their fields like IAS 2019 MP Cadre - Ms. Shruti Jayant Deshmukh. Apart from this all the teachers of my program have always pushed me to participate in every cultural activities from the very starting of my course, as a result of which I become the President of the Cultural Club, JLU. It was the Theatre Workshop in JLU which startled my eyes and helped me develop a serious love for Acting and ofcourse my Psychology course helped me understand acting and more than that it helped me understand myself. It have been a beautiful experience in JLU. Thankyou for everything School of Humanities and Social Sciences, JLU.”
